Mass. property owners given grace period before city files charges

The city has delayed filing criminal charges against property owners who transported apartment buildings to the 3208 Massachusetts Avenue site in February 1993, but failed to construct foundations for them.

At its April 26 briefing meeting, the City Council approved a request from City Attorney Don McLean to file charges against the property's three owners for violating city zoning codes if the owners did not contact the city immediately to detail how they plan to comply with zoning requirements.]

The vacant apartments were moved to a Massachusetts lot in February 1993 when their original site was condemned and razed to make way for the Home Depot project.

At a recent council meeting, a neighboring property owner complained that the buildings attracted vandalism, as well as vagrants who slept in the buildings and sometimes on the lawn of his 6-unit rental property.

One of the owners, Grennady Rosenberg, contacted the city through his attorney, detailing how he intends to resolve the situation, City Manager Doug Yount said, explaining that the city is allowing that owner about another week to demonstrate progress toward purchasing the property and making improvements.

Rosenberg could not be reached for comment.

City to test housing program

by Lindy Wagner

With the City Council's conceptual approval granted Tuesday, the city will soon begin a pilot program designed to assist low-income residents purchase their first homes, as well as help the city meet state and federal housing requirements.

In order to comply with its state-required plan to replace low- and moderate-income housing units lost to the Broadway Commercial/Home Depot project, the city needs to provide two, three-bedroom units in addition to the 14 low-income housing units the city is subsidizing at a local apartment complex.

To fund the program, the city's Community Development Agency will utilize $50,000 in redevelopment monies earmarked this fiscal year for replacement housing.

According to City Manager Doug Yount, if the pilot project involving two units in the Chatham Court Condominiums at 7646 and 7660 Central Avenue is successful, the city will enter into more such arrangements as suitable properties become available.

In a written report, Robert Richardson, the city's management analyst, said this program is modeled after National City's "silent second" program for first-time home buyers.

Under Lemon Grove's pilot program, first-time home buyers with incomes less than or equal to 80 percent of the county's median income would qualify. Under HUD income stipulations, a four-member family with an annual income of $35,100 would qualify.

The city's Community Development Agency will provide a "silent second" mortgage, or loan, for 1 to 25 percent (up to $25,000) of the home's purchase price. This will reduce a buyer's payments to about 30 percent of his/her monthly gross income, according to the report. The home buyer will pay all closing costs.

Financial institutions participating in this program will provide special loan rates for qualifying buyers of the condominiums which are priced from $132,900 to $133,900.

According to Yount, the city will utilize the services of either the county's Housing Authority or of the city of San Diego to process the applications for participation in the pilot program.

Richardson said that unlike programs in other cities, this program's financing is structured so that first-time home buyers will soon build up equity and then sell that starter home.

Describing this as a "social-assistance program," Yount said that if a home is sold after the first five years of ownership, the interest on the "silent second" loan will be forgiven. After 10 years of ownership, an "equity sharing" plan takes effect, making it financially worthwhile for an owner to sell at that time, rather than stay and lose some of the home's equity to the city.

According to Yount, the plan may be adjusted so that the home buyer does not have to pay the closing costs, which he said, could be burdensome for low-income residents.

Poppy sales to begin soon

Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, Post and Auxiliary 6874 Encanto of Lemon Grove will be selling Buddy Poppies May 20 and 21.

The sale preceding Memorial Day is the traditional way since 1922 to annually raise funds for exclusive use in assisting disabled and needy veterans and the widows and children of deceased veterans. Proceeds are kept in the community where they are raised.

The Encanto volunteers worked many hours at VA and Balboa Navy Hospitals, held parties at Christmas and other holidays, baked treats, held barbecues and Easter egg hunts, and gave vouchers or baskets for help with holiday meals. These are just a few of the many programs Poppy Sales funds benefit.

One of the most successful adaptations is the assembly program. It is used as a step toward rehabilitation of psychiatric and other patients. The experience and training in concentration and supervised work in assembling poppies has led to more complicated duties and eventual discharge. Remember how generous they were so we could live in freedom and peace, and smile when you give back.

New officers were elected at the April meeting of VFW Post 6874 Auxiliary. They will assume their respective positions after the state convention in June in Riverside.

The following were elected for 1994-1995 year:

President: Sharri Blundstone
Senior Vice: Gloria Miller
Jr. Vice: Margaret Poellet
Treasurer: Jean Willey
Chaplain: Gladys Smrekar
Conductress: Barbara Unangst
Guard: Helen Beich

Masons honor students

For about 35 years, ever since the Grand Lodge of California called on Masons to support public schools, the Lemon Grove Masonic Lodge 736 has been recognizing the achievements of local students.

April 28, over 40 students who hold school government offices in Lemon Grove School District schools were honored by the lodge at an awards dinner held at the Masonic Temple.

According to Layton Tinder, awards committee chairman, it was the Masons' desire to support public schools at a time when the state's schools were "in bad shape," which created California's Public School Month, celebrated each April.

In conjunction with Public Schools Month, the local Masons began holding various student events such as spelling bees and other contests.

Then, after conversations with the school district, they decided to honor students who served on student councils.

"We wanted to honor students who do a lot for their schools, so we began the Student Leadership Recognition dinner."

At the event, each student council presented a skit portraying some of its activities. The following students, and two school employees, received awards:

Golden Avenue School: Lance Davis, president; Jennifer Cook, vice president; Camille Lee, Secretary; Thomas Child, treasurer; and Teleah Carpenter, fire marshal.

Monterey Heights School:

Josephine Tucker, president; Matthew Bailey, vice president; Lacy Gregory, secretary; Adam Castaneda, co-treasurer; and Regina Woods, co-treasurer.

Mount Vernon School: Daniel Floyd, president; Amber Jerman, vice president; Ashley Westman, secretary; Garth Field, treasurer; Anna Perrino, fire marshal; and Ryan Frye, publicity.

Lemon Grove Middle School: LaSandra Collins, president; Terriel Cox, vice president; Audrey Bray, secretary; Teresa Ramirez, treasurer; Jenny Flores, historian; and Roberta Robinson, spirit commissioner.

Palm Middle School: Brandee Singleton, president; Gina Gomez, vice president; Jennifer Rayos, secretary; Celena Piligrino, treasurer; Avannia Burton, commissioner of spirit; Michelle Pura, activities; Tiffany Flood, publicity; and Jennifer Gregory, student store.

San Altos School: Erika Liljestrom, president; John Liljestrom, vice president; Anthony Martinez, secretary; and Nicholas Balsley, treasurer.

San Miguel School: Valyncia Hill, president; Jennifer Dowdy, vice president; Jessica Baldwin, secretary; Nancy Witherspoon, treasurer; and Lauren Brounley, publicity.

Vista La Mesa School: Kristina Goettler, president; Brian Brown, vice president; Warren Samu, secretary; and Katie Hut-ton, treasurer.

Teacher, Neva Conrad and classified employee, Bill Lawrence were also honored.

Mt. Miguel grads begin theater productions

Two former Mount Miguel High School students are hoping to co-produce a season of local drama.

Dennis Henry, who since his 1992 graduation has acted in community theater productions, is producing a play authored by his former classmate, Jason Jablow.

Henry hopes that the production of the drama, "One Last Stop," May 27 through June 19 at the Lemon Grove Arts Complex, will lead to a fall season of original plays.

The play will be offered Fridays and Saturdays at 8 p.m. and Sundays at 2 p.m.

Henry and Jablow are renting the Art Complex for the play's production and hope to continue utilizing the facility.

Summer water polo offered

In preparation for the upcoming water polo season, Miguel Aquatics is sponsoring a summer water polo team at Mount Miguel High School.

All students (including incoming freshmen) who wish to participate in the fall water polo season are encouraged to swim and practice through the summer with Miguel Aquatics. Practices will be Saturdays, 8-10 a.m., beginning June 18 and Mondays, 5-7 p.m., beginning June 20.

Games will be held evenings - Tuesdays (at Valhalla High School), Wednesdays (at Grossmont College), and Thursdays (at Valhalla High School). The summer season will end in mid-August. For more information, call Jim Eaton, 545-1978.

Obituary

Pasqual Beltran

Lemon Grove resident Pasqual Beltran, 84, died May 5 at his home. Born in Mazatlan Mexico, May 17, 1909, Mr. Beltran was a maintenance worker at Vacationer Travel Trailer Park in El Cajon and at St. Martin's Catholic Church in La Mesa before retiring.

He lived in the county for 73 years and enjoyed gardening.

Mr. Beltran was preceded in death by his wife, Guadalupe. He is survived by two sisters, Judy Smith and Mary Louise Padilla, both of Lemon Grove, and by nine nieces and nephews.

A funeral Mass was held Tuesday at St. John of the Cross Catholic Church; burial was at Holy Cross Cemetery, San Diego.

B-Words Missed

It seems appropriate that I give some thanks to my readers. A couple of weeks ago, through a miscount on my part, there was an absence of the B-Words column.

It brought about an answer to a question that has been nagging to me as to any columnist, I am sure. It is, does anyone really read the stuff? A recent poll regarding a town meeting, was entirely positive, but very meager in response. This causes doubt to arise in ones' mind as to readership.

However, the people who have asked about the missed column have made me realize that I do have a following, and that I am satisfying some of the populace with my information and my opinions on various subjects. I know that I have my detractors who do not think it proper for a councilman to write a weekly column, but I discount their opinions as selfish interest or as contrary to personal agendas. The Fair Political Practices Commission gave me the okay long ago on B-Words as long as other opinions were not excluded from the publication. I am sure that Pete Kaufman welcomes any and all submissions to the Review, and I, too, would like to see more local input for the edification of the public.

One of my readers, who has told me that she "reads every word," has informed me that she "missed every word" in the issue that B-Words were absent. Thank you, Marge, and I will try to not let it happen again.

As indicated in a previous column, there are many, many issues that confront us here in little old Lemon Grove. Some are trivial, but the others have merit to some degree. As a member of the City Council for the past 17 years, I am proud of what we have accomplished since the incorporation of our city. I have often thought about what we could have accomplished if we had become a city back in 1957 and had the income due us in those additional 20 years. But we didn't, and there is no use crying over spilled milk. It does however give a perspective as to what can be done in the future with responsible leadership and common sense.

Looking around the county, it seems to me that while we have our problems with budgeting our income, we are much better off than some other municipalities. The huge deficits that some are experiencing are frightening and by vicariously experiencing their pain, we can be the more aware of our own situation. Grandiose schemes, and mergers, and creative financing gimmicks must be closely examined and evaluated. There are "strings" in intergovernmental relationships just as in the movies, and they can be even more egregious in their effects on financial stability.

Attending was new member Paul Sayers of Sayers Hypnotherapy. Also attending were Wendell Cutting of Congressman Duncan Hunter, Kathy Olsen of RCP Block & Brick, and Rich Craig of San Diego Shirt Works.

Ron introduced speaker Rebecca Collier of Dale Carnegie Training. Her networking information was interesting, informative, and lots of fun. Her method of presentation was unique.

The luncheon was held at Bessie's Garite Restaurant which offered delicious varieties of food served by Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, the owners.

Sundowner News

The April Sundowner was hosted by the McAllister Institute. The evening was information and interesting. The woman and children division served a well-prepared dinner for all attendees. We were invited to tour the facilities and met several women and their children. This is the only recovery program which allows the children to be with their mothers. Volunteers are always welcome, as there are six divisions in this program. We wish Jeannie McAllister much success. Call 466-9274 for further information.

Old time Chautauqua coming to Spring Valley

The Chautauqua, popular in middle America during the early years of this century, will be recreated for the 10th year at Mount Miguel Covenant Village during the week of May 17 to 20.

Until 50 years ago, Chautauqua went from town to town across America to bring its mixture of circus gaiety, vaudeville glamor, and camp-meeting solemnity. It began in 1874 as a summer school to train Sunday-school teachers at Chautauqua Lake, New York. By 1904, traveling circuits brought music, lectures, drama, and other entertainment to a public starved for culture. It came to its demise with the greater availability of the automobile and radio in the late 1920s.

Recreating the era of Chautauqua at Mount Miguel Covenant Village includes raising a "big top" on the Village grounds. The week of special events will include the musical "Sugar" presented by Monte Vista High School; Barbara Hudson Dudley, dramatist; the United States Marine Corps band; and old-fashioned tent gospel meeting; the San Diego Comic Opera singers, Patti Goodman and Leon Natker; and much more. The week will conclude on Friday with a "Country Fair" that will feature games, clowns, classic cars, a petting zoo, music, an art exhibit and a barbecue lunch.

College for Kids sign-ups

Registration for the 15th season of College for Kids, a summer enrichment program at Grossmont and Cuyamaca Community colleges, will begin at 8 a.m. Monday, May 16.

An intensive, instructional and fun program, College for Kids is designed for students entering 4th through 10th grades this Fall. Classes will begin Monday, June 27, for two 3-week sessions, Monday through Thursday from 1-4 p.m.

The fee of $114 for each 3-week session entitles the registrant to select two classes from a list of more than 40. There are no grades, no tests and no homework.

Additional registration information may be obtained by calling the College for Kids office at 465-1700, ext. 653.

Helix to host event at Lake Jennings

For the first time ever, runners and walkers will be offered an opportunity to run or walk all the way around Lake Jennings. To celebrate Water Awareness Month, Helix Water District is having a run/walk around Lake Jennings on Memorial Day, May 30. Along with this challenging 8K run/walk around the lake starting at 7:30 a.m., a special short course will be available to encourage families to run or walk together starting at 8:30 a.m. A bag of goodies, including a water bottle, of course, and a beautiful commemorative T-shirt, will reward each participant.

General Manager Bob Friedgen said, "We thought this would be a great way to remind everyone of the importance of emergency water storage, as we must import 90% of our water supply. As water planners, we must consider the impact of disasters as well as the needs of future generations. We know participants will enjoy the run/walk around beautiful Lake Jennings, Helix's primary emergency storage facility."

All proceeds beyond the actual cost of the event will go to support local schools through mini-grants, computer time on the National Geographic Network, and educational water materials.

To further promote the theme of Water Awareness Month, "Use Water Wisely - It's a Way of Life!" packets of wet and wild waterthon materials are being sent to every elementary school in East County. Students will go from station to station learning along the route about water conservation, the water cycle, and the properties of water. Helix will provide stickers and iron-on transfers free to every participating student.

Applications for the run/walk may be picked up at East County libraries, Chambers of Commerce within the District and at the Helix Water District office located at 8111 University Avenue in La Mesa. Those wanting to volunteer to help out at the run may call 466-0585, extension 270.

For more information regarding Waterun '94, please call 272-8316.

More wilderness cabins to open July 1

Two wilderness cabins at Lake Morena Regional Park, near Campo, will be ready for occupancy July 1. The cabins, similar to those built at Julian's William Heise Park last year, are located near the boat launch at the lake campground.

Reservations are currently being taken for the July 1 opening at Lake Morena.

All of the cabins are 12' x 14' and were built by County Parks maintenance workers. There is no water or electricity inside the cabins, but restrooms, grills, picnic tables, and a water source are close by.

The new cabins have four bunks. Maximum occupancy is eight. Reservations for the cabins may be made through the normal reservation process. The cabins are $25 per night, plus a reservation fee. All park reservation rules apply, including the use of Resident Discount Cards and Senior Discounts. Pets are not permitted with cabin reservations.

To reserve a wilderness cabin for your family or group at William Heise or Lake Morena, call 565-3600.

The cabins, which cost approximately $2,500 each, were built with grant funds. Additional cabins are scheduled at both locations.

Dana and Anthony Dominic will offer a master class in modern dance at Lemon Grove Arts Complex from 1 to 2:30 on Saturday, May 21. Charge for the master class will be $8. Proceeds from this event will create a scholarship fund for the new Pax Fiat Cultural Center to open in Oceanside this summer.

Lutherans offering organ concert, workshop

Lemon Grove Lutheran Church will present the Rodger Classic Organ Studio with Richard Van Auken in a workshop and concert at the church, 2065 Skyline Drive, May 21-22.

The Sunday, 4 p.m. free concert is part of the church's community outreach services; everyone is welcome.

"The Lutheran Church is known as a musical church and its people actively support music in every form," Rev. E.J. Volkmann said.

A reception in Lutheran hall will follow the concert and allow the public to meet the artist.

The Saturday workshop, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., will focus on church music. Subject areas will include hymn playing, effective practice ideas, understanding basic harmony, working relationships, wedding music, feeling the music's emotions, choir rehearsals, etc. Cost of the workshop, conducted by Van Auken, is $5 per person; refreshments will be served.

Deadline for workshop registration is May 15. Send checks payable to Rodgers Classic Organ Studio, 16990 Via Tazon #122, San Diego, Ca. 92127.

Van Auken is an artist/teacher in Moravian College's music department. An organist since age 13, he performs regularly on both the organ and piano, and appeared in a recital at Washington, D.C.'s National Cathedral, playing the Skinner organ.

UCC to host guest speaker

The Rev. Dr. Russell J. Becker, Director of Planned Giving for the Southern California Conference of the United Church of Christ, will deliver a sermon entitled "The Lost Chord" at Lemon Grove United Church of Christ on Sunday, May 15.

Prior to the five years he has been on the conference staff, Dr. Becker had significant pastorates in Glenview and Glencoe, Ill. and taught at both the College of Wooster (Ohio) and Yale Divinity School.

His conference post being a part-time position which he has assumed in "retirement," Becker is also active on behalf of Habitat for Humanity building projects. He participated in a week-long walk from Pasadena to the U.S.-Mexican border as part of the Jimmy Carter Work Week in 1990, when over 100 homes were built through the auspices of that Georgia-based, international agency.

He lives in Claremont, Calif. with his wife, Dorothy. Their three grown sons include one who is pastor of the Congregational Church in Moreno Valley.

Morning services at the church on 2770 Glebe Road in Lemon Grove begin at 10:15.

In the Service

Cpl. Mary E. Woolfolk was recently promoted to the rank of Sergeant. She is the daughter of Linda L. Woolfolk and the granddaughter of George and Naomi Gerds of Lemon Grove.

She graduated in 1988 from Mount Miguel High School. She will be stationed in Allied Forces, Naples, Italy, until January, 1996.

Woolfolk enlisted in the Army in 1988, through the delayed-entry program, while she was still in high school.
